

I don't support the expansion of voting rights with regards to mail in ballots. Our state does not have the proper security measures in place to mitigate election fraud like other states who currently allow 100% mail ballots. With the added verbiage of Covid-19 during what's becoming an endemic it doesn't make sense to add this to current state statutes. The more we expand a broad term like this, it will open us up to abuse. If someone is unable to physically appear at a polling place based the existing criteria, that should be sufficient.

Robert A. Britton